Welcome to our overweight and oversized town!

HOOORAY, can it really be true? From what I read, it looks as if Crouch End has finally made it. At last we've managed to drag ourselves out of the "Border Town" zone and attained the dizzy heights of "Clone Town" status.

And how have we managed to do this? It seems as though that bastion of good eating, McDonald's, is to occupy the Powerhouse site at the corner of Hornsey Town Hall.

Aren't we the lucky one? Not only burgers and fries but all that goes with the fast food industry – pavement rubbish, garish signage, takeaway calories.

Never mind the Government's five-a-day healthy eating plan – give us good honest chips with everything!

Let's follow the American example and turn this borough into an overweight, oversized, anytown, anywhere.
